"This edition continues to provide current and future classroom teachers with exciting classroom-tested and research-based activities for ensuring children's successful interactions with literature. The book is packed with activities, all of which are grounded in theory and universal in nature so they can be applied to books of all levels. The activities have been updated to reflect current research and trends. The authors support teachers' efforts to be effective decision-makers as they plan literature instruction for their culturally, linguistically, and academically diverse K-8 students. This fifth edition also includes a greater emphasis on new literacies and on writing in response to literature."--Jacket.

Discusses various assessment tools applicable to grades K-6, including self-evaluation, reading-response notebooks, and portfolio creation

Grounded in theory and best-practices research, this practical text provides teachers with 40 strategies for using fiction and non-fiction trade books to teach in five key content areas: language arts and reading, social studies, mathematics, science, and the arts. Each strategy provides everything a teacher needs to get started: a classroom example that models the strategy, a research-
