~~This dualistic focus is responsible for the emergence of mental as well as physical health concerns (Turner 2004). Contemporary studies show that religion is positively associated with physical and mental health, as well as longevity and mortality (Hummer et al.
1999; Sherkat & Ellison 1999). Religious involvement, measured by attendance at services and feelings of religiosity, is positively associated with physical early 1900's the Flexner report noted that there was no place for religion in medicine; that medicine was strictly a scientific field, not a theological or philosophical one. In the mid to the latter 1900's there were several lay movements that started emphasized the importance of religion, spirituality and medicine.
