journalist. This short story, which is his most famous, is an action-adventure tale inspired partly by the big-game safari tours in Africa and South America that were popular in the 1920s. This tale was also influenced by Connell's experience in World War I, which may have contributed to the story's message.

In "The Most Dangerous Game" Richard Connell successfully sustains the suspense with his skillful use of diction and setting as well as the carefully crafted antagonist, General Zaroff. Richard Connell's use of setting to increase the suspense is impeccable. In the beginning of the story, when Rainsford and some crew members are discussing 'Ship Trap Island' one of the crew members says "The place has a reputation, a bad one" and another says "This place has an evil name ...
