The Elephant in the Brain (because it's about a big thing in our brain that we don't acknowledge) argues that many of our actions are motivated by a desire to cultivate allies and mates and, to cultivate effectively, humans have learned to lie others and ourselves.

The Elephant in the Brain: Hidden Motives in Everyday Life ...

The Elephant in the Brain is all about Stage 3 and the sobering realization that our minds aren't just hapless and quirky, but downright devious. So where can we turn when our own minds are lying to us? A: We have to triangulate ourselves from theoretical priors and behavioral data. That's what Robin and I attempt to do in Part I. 4.
