The Seafarer translated by Burton Raffel This tale is true, and mine. It tells How the sea took me, swept me back And forth in sorrow and fear and pain, Showed me suffering in a hundred ships, 5 In a thousand ports, and in me. It tells Of smashing surf when I sweated in the cold Of an anxious watch, perched in the bow

Part I. The seafarer is a man on a journey in the sea. He often endured days of struggle and troublesome times during his isolation. Sick and cold throughout his time at sea, his feet were cast in icy bands since the frosty water was coming in the boat. He faced hunger and his soul was tired of the sea.
