'I reaily enjoyed 'Time Ship' - Book one and Book two. After I completed Book 1, I had to go straight on to Book 2! I love time travel novels, and this one had interesting twists, authentic details of the pirates who came forward and I had difficulty putting it down - just wanted to see what would happen next.

The Axis of Time trilogy is an alternative history series of novels written by Australian journalist and author John Birmingham, from Macmillan Publishing. The novels deal with the radical alteration of the history of World War II and the socio-historical changes that result when a technologically advanced naval task force from the year 2021 is accidentally transported back through time to 1942. The early chapters of the first book in the trilogy, Weapons of Choice, are set in the near future.

By Tom Burden, Last updated 2/8/2019. Striking clocks use the traditional ship's bells. The following is taken from Chapman's standard reference book, Piloting, Seamanship and Small Boat Handling: Ship's bell time originated in sailing ship days, when the crew of a vessel was divided into Port and Starboard Watches, each on duty four hours, then off four hours.

Most United States Navy ships of the post–World War II era have actually carried 2 or 3 bells: the larger bell engraved with the ship's name, mounted on the forecastle, and smaller bells in the pilot house and at the quarterdeck at the IMC (public address) station, for use in making shipwide announcements and marking the time. The larger bell on the forecastle is rung periodically as a fog ...

During the so-called "Golden Age" of piracy (roughly 1700-1725), thousands of pirates terrorized shipping lanes all over the world, particularly in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans. These ruthless men needed good ships to be able to run down their prey and escape from pirate hunters and navy vessels. Where did they get their ships, and what made for a good pirate craft?

Ship's bell, bell used as early as the 15th century to sound the time on board ship by striking each half hour of a watch. The mariner's day is divided into six watches, each four hours long, except that the 4:00 to 8:00 pm watch may be "dogged"; that is, divided into the first and second dogwatches, each two hours long, to allow men on duty to have their evening meal.
